[Klahoose First Nation]

Job Posting: Math and Literacy tutor

Position overview

Klahoose First Nation is seeking a patient, encouraging and knowledgeable Math and Literacy Tutor to support students in developing their skills in mathematics, reading and writing. The tutor will work with students at their individual learning levels and help identify areas where additional support is needed. -- Available up to 6hours per week in Klahoose Community. Rate of pay to be determined on experience.

Key Responsibilities

- Provide one-to-one and/or small-group tutoring in mathematics, reading and writing.
- Support students with foundational skills, including number sense, basic operations, phonics, reading fluency, comprehension, spelling and writing.
- Assess students' learning needs informally and identify areas requiring additional practice or support.
- Plan and deliver age- and skill-appropriate learning activities that align, where appropriate, with the BC curriculum and students' learning goals.
- Monitor student progress and maintain clear, confidential records of tutoring activities and progress.
- Communicate appropriately with families, teachers and program staff about student progress and support needs.

Preferred qualifications and requirements

- Education Assistant diploma, Bachelor of Education, or other relevant post-secondary credential
- At least one year of experience working with children or supporting student learning
- Experience supporting students with diverse learning needs
- Experience working in First Nations communities and an understanding of local culture

Screening and other conditions

The successful applicant may be required to provide references and complete the criminal record screening required for a position working with children.

How to apply

Interested applicants are invited to submit a resume and cover letter outlining their education, relevant experience and interest in the position to:

Contact person: Marilyn Harry

Email or mailing address: marilynharry@klahoose.org